THE AKIKA. A pure Arabic word, literally means to indicate the naming of a person, or the cropping of one's hair. Religiously, it signifies and specifies a well-known weighty usage or rite observed in the families of all Mussulmans on the occasion of child-birth. Instantly a child is delivered, Alan, the customary prayer, is said at the right-hand side of the child. The Azan, or prayer, that is done in a much clearer voice audible to the ears of the born child, is of the following form :_U God is Great! (said four times). I bear witness that there is no God but God (repeated twice). I bear witness that Mohammed is the Apostle of God (repeated twice). Come to prayers! (said twice). Come to salvation I (recited twice). God is Great! (said twice). There is no Deity but the Deity!" (said only once) and the final call. This prayer being finished, another one of identical nature is done and said at the left side of the child. This second prayer, which is termed Ta
